This exchange is for HPI USA customers only. If you are located outside of North America and South America, please contact your nearest HPI branch or HPI distributor for information about their exchange policy. HPI USA does not ship overseas for exchange engines.

- The engine that you send in does not have to run and may be disassembled.
- Damaged parts are acceptable (broken head fins, broken pullstarter, broken con rod, etc.).

- California residents must add 7.75% state sales tax to the total.

How long does it take for Customer Service to send out my new engine?

We try our best to process orders as soon as they come in, most of the time in stock engine exchanges are processed within two days of receiving them. If the engine you are exchanging for is out of stock, we will call you to let you know the approximate time frame we expect it to ship. All return shipments on engine exchanges are sent Ground, so delivery time may vary. HPI USA is in California, so ground shipping from the East Coast can take around 5 days in each direction. The closer you are to California the quicker the item will be returned. Canadian customers: international customs can sometimes delay the delivery by a few days. We don't work on weekends and holidays, so if you want to calculate the time it takes your engine exchange please consider our weekend/holiday schedule.
